

Being a Good Neighbor

For four years, the Ellet Grace Brethren Church in Akron, Ohio (Jonathon Carey, pastor), has set out to bless the Ritzman Community Learning Center, a K-5 elementary school in the Akron public school district.

The Sunday before classes started, the church opened their doors for the We Care Ritzman Back-to-School Extravaganza. They welcomed students and their parents with a variety of opportunities and services, including backpacks filled with school supplies, free haircuts, door prizes, and snow-cones.

Area businesses also contributed to the event. "Many of the businesses told us they recognize the good work we are doing in the community," said Beckie Gurnish, who orchestrated the event.

While the day focused on meeting the physical needs of students, it was also covered in prayer for teachers. "I always make up teacher bags for those [teachers] who come," said Gurnish. "This year I told them we would be praying for them during the school year, and I actually got to pray with one of them."
